INTERNATIONAL PRESIDENT

Greetings Key Clubbers,

It is my pleasure to welcome you to the 73rd International Convention. This weekend, let's celebrate everything that we have accomplished together. As we transition from the past and into the future, we are left with an important task: choosing the future leaders of our organization.

This past service year, I had the honor of serving as an International Trustee. Serving in this position has given me the opportunity to see Key Club as more than just a service organization, but as dynamic collection of unique individuals from different walks of life. As our organization enters its 91st year of service, we will set the course of our organization for its next decade of service. If you would join me in this journey, I would be honored to serve as your International President. Let it be said that the service year of 2016-2017 was one to remember. Key Clubbers, let's make it happen.
